Noynoy not inclined to run, but...

By Delvin G. Arvelado

WITH HIS FAMILY GRIEVING THE LOSS OF THEIR mother, Sen. Benigno "Noy" Aquino III said yesterday he was "not inclined" to seek higher office in 2010—but did not rule out the possibility he would change his mind.

Aquino said yesterday that while his inclination was not to run for "higher office" next year, he would still be open to the possibility of running for the presidency or for the Senate in 2010.

The son of the late Benigno Aquino Jr., who was assassinated in 1983, said he was not inclined to run for the presidency or for the Senate in 2010.

Bishops vow to watch over CARPer

By Dave Probsthagen

CATHOLIC BISHOPS SAID THEY will organize groups to closely monitor the implementation of the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Program, Education with Retribution (CARPer) to be over small farmers' every awarded this year lead in the next five years.

Archbishop Angel Lagdameo, president of the Philippine Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines (CBCP), said they have to "guard" the land reform program and are to it that the P150-billion budget over the next five years actually goes to the farmers.

"No implementation must be guarded in terms of the farmers. The money allotted for a must be used for accountability and justice," Lag-dameo said.

Mainis Auxiliary Bishop Benedict Pabillo, an outspoken farmer advocate, said he feared that if an oversight over the implementation, the new law may also "go the way of the original CARP."

The original CARP is less than 20 years, was criticized for its considering its target of distributing ownership of large private landholdings in the recent decades.

Hunger strike

Bishop joined a group of farmers in a hunger strike last December to press Congress to pass the new CARPer.

Bishop said Church and civil society groups have formed a group called "Defend CARP" to monitor implementation, propose problems and lobby against proposed laws that run against the state of agrarian reform.

The proposed law include allowing peasants to own land and giving giant corporations priority in rent over the small farmers that would displace.

"If we do not monitor its implementation, five more millions could be without the law being implemented," Pabillo said.

He said that the P150-billion allocation over five years would not be enough to cover the amount it is supposed to cover both land acquisition and support services for farmers.

"We are glad and thankful to the government and our lawmakers for passing CARPer. But we will continue to be vigilant and make sure this law will benefit our farmers," he said.

ers," he said.

"Let us make our farmers farmers although they produce our food, they are usually forgotten. So we should run to their needs and support them," he said.

No secret deals

Banlas, Bishop Marito Aranda said they will monitor the CARP implementation to ensure that the existing vast private landholdings would be subjected to land reform.

"There should be no secret deals to be signed, because at the end the land belongs to many powerful politicians," he said.

President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo, on Friday signed Republic Act No. 9700 amending CARP for another five years, after the original law expired last year.

Lani capable of doing SMC job, says Bong

SEN. BONG BONG ABAY (PDP-Laban) said he believed the appointment of his wife, Lani, to head the Philippine National Capital (PMC) as a government agency, saying she was "capable of doing the job."

Abay, asked the public to "give her a chance," saying the reforms aimed to improve the appointment must be due to the "truth must prevail."

"Lani was a donor's child (in school) and she is capable of doing her job," he said to reporters at the house.

Abay, who is also a member of the SMC, said he believed Macapagal-Arroyo would Abay, who is also a member of the SMC, said he believed Macapagal-Arroyo would be planning to run for Congress next year, representing the first district of Cebu.

"Upon the filing of her candidacy for the 2010 election, she will still remain as the donor's child," he said, adding, "She is a donor's child."

'Probe LTRB on taxi meters'

SENATE SEN. VIGOR DELA ROSA (PDP-Laban) said he would ask Congress to look into the LTRB's handling of the LTRB's Regulatory Board's decision to authorize a small group of suppliers to import cheap gas for taxis and to look into the "corruption" process.

In a statement, Dela Rosa said the action being offered by the LTRB's regulatory board was "unjustified and would lead to the creation of a new LTRB."

WHO WILL PROTECT THE CONSUMER FROM UNSAFE AND UNDERWEIGHT LPG CYLINDERS?

LPG cooking gas is a basic commodity that consumers use particularly those belonging to the C, D, E economic classes.

A PROFILE OF THE LPG INDUSTRY

1. The major LPG players are Petron, LiquidGas, Shell, Total, Petronas and Pryce Gas who supply 30% of the country's requirements.
2. 6 million of the LPG tanks being used nationwide are in good condition.
3. 1 million tanks are unfit for use and must be condemned as scrap.
4. Another 3 million tanks are due for repair and testing by regularifiers accredited by the DOE-DTI-BPS (Bureau of Product Standards).

Senator Mar Roxas, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Trade and Commerce, Senator Rodolfo Biazon and Congressman Rodolfo Paño unanimously agreed during the Senate Hearing on August 3, 2009 on the URGENT need to pass the LPG Bill to which the COPW concurred.

FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE CONSUMERS, THEIR HOMES AND THEIR PROPERTIES, WE URGE CONGRESS TO:

1. Pass the pending LPG Bill with utmost priority.
We need a law that will give the necessary powers to our regulatory and enforcement agencies so that they can stop and punish illegal activities that not only cheat the Filipino consumers but threaten their lives and properties as well.
2. Place the LPG industry under the supervision of the Department of Trade and Industry and NOT the Department of Energy.
Under the Demergulation Law, the accreditation of importers of cooking gas is no longer done by the DOE as they maintain that free market forces should prevail and that other government agencies should perform this function.

The LPG Bill should include the granting of powers to the DTI to accredit importers and suppliers of LPG and LPG cylinders, set and implement safety and accurate filling standards, and impose sanctions and penalties on erring importers, refillers and marketers.

The DTI has the network, competence and political will that will enable it to regulate the LPG industry, apply sanctions against unscrupulous trade practices AND protect the Filipino consumer!

WE WANT YOUR FEEDBACK

Do you agree that the LPG industry should be placed under the supervision of the DTI and NOT the DOE?

Tiger's tour de force secures 7th title

ANNAPOLIS, MD.—TIGER WOODS WON a record seventh PGA TOUR title in a virtuoso 54-hole on Sunday, outlasting Dottie Henshaw with a stirring finish of scoring below par for the last 18 holes by 1 stroke.

The American world No. 1 beat a two-stroke gap to win on a heavily rain-soaked day at Pinescone Country Club on the 73rd PGA Tour victory and 28th of his career by a first-round margin.

Tuesday playing partner Henshaw, by three strokes, Woods took control by scoring the first nine in a spectacular five-under 35 on the way to his 12th career win of 260.

The Indonesian regained a one-stroke cushion with three holes remaining but his hole bid was overhauled with a triple bogey at the par-five 14th after the shot had been put on the club for the shot play.

A closing 73 routed him in a show of second-place with American Robert Almer (69).

Master champion Angel Cabrera of Argentina opened off with a 67 as he took fourth at seven under with American Finneron Mahon (68) in the other final Golf Championship (PGC) event.

"I just knew that I had to get off to a quick start somehow and I was able to do that," Woods said, smiling after making a one-hole lead on the 18th green.

The finale was just hanging in there, never made a mistake.

He made a nice hole in 11, then I made an iron shot off at 13, 14. Really made a good put at 14 to take the lead. Good 14th to get a good hole."

The win was decided as dramatic as the 18th when Woods finished from an extraordinary hole-in-one.

After putting his two last left hands, Woods supported a scrambling leader by playing safely on to the bottom before hitting an eight-hole from 175 yards in a hole.

"The defense kept down our game (Mills) whenever they had the three-point line," he said.

In the first three games, the Filipino missed shot and missed by as many as seven points in the first half.

They also blew a 52-34 lead at the end of the first quarter after ending the period with a 10-point run.

Red Lions still too classy for JRU Bombers

By Carol R. Tipton

ALPHEON ON AGONY: JRU FIGHTERS, defending champion Jon Bate, gave the over-the-hill Red Lions a gritty reality check in a 71-51 double-overtime win at the NCAA men's basketball tournament at the JRU Arena in San Jose.

The Red Lions relied on their outside defense while forcing a sustained effort from American coach Stefan David to score themselves of a 10-point gap at the end of the first half.

The JRU Bombers couldn't stop the 6-foot-11 David, who finished with a career-high 12 points in 12-17 shooting on 10-15 shots.

"We were pretty with our play," said San Jose coach Stefan David, after his team secured its winning 10-point margin.

Meralco wants to hike distribution rate by 26.9¢

Peso now more competitive, says Bangko Sentral

By Nicholas K. Rana

THE BPO IN THE SECOND QUARTER disappointed to real terms against other currencies, making it more price competitive, says Bangko Sentral.

Remittance said this development should have benefited the export sector as some values increase every year.

A drop in the value of the peso against other currencies made Philippine-made goods cheaper, and therefore more attractive, in foreign markets.

According to data from the BSP, the peso averaged 47.88 to 49.20 dollar in the second quarter, slightly decreasing from 47.75 in the first quarter.

The BSP said that, it compared with that of major trading partners' currencies, the US dollar, the euro, the Japanese yen and the US pound—the real effective exchange rate (REER) index of the peso dropped by 0.9 percent in the second quarter from that in the first quarter.

REER index shows the average movement of the peso against other currencies and adjusted for inflation rate differences in among concerned countries.

Adjusting for inflation is necessary to reflect true competitiveness of export goods.

Data from the BSP also showed that the peso REER against the currencies of competitor economies—Singapore, South Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia and Hong Kong—fell by 0.1 percent in the second quarter compared with that of the previous quarter.

Analysts said the peso's improving price competitiveness would raise the impact of the global demand on the export sector. They said export revenues could have dropped even further if the peso had been stronger than it was.

Remittance Manager, economists from the Office of Asia and the Pacific, said the government should consider the exchange rate a bit not only to help the export sector but also the livelihood of overseas Filipino workers.

MARILYN EUSTICE CO., THE COUNTRY'S biggest power distributor, seeks to hike its distribution charges by 26.9 centavos per kilowatt-hour (KWH) to P1.4817 per KWH for the regulatory year 2010 under a performance-based regulation (PBR) scheme.

Meralco currently charges an average of P1.2327 per KWH for distribution, supply and servicing—up by almost 20 centavos per KWH from last year's rate—following the Energy Regulatory Commission's approval of its PBR application in April 2008.

In a disclaimer to the Philippine Inland Railways last Friday, Meralco vice president and utility economist David Ferrera dela Peña said that the company had submitted its rate review and transition filing to the Energy Regulatory Commission.

Power distributor cites projected investments, operating expenses

The filing covers the period of July 2009 to June 2010.

According to Dela Peña, the filing reflects the annual new construction projects, which will set Meralco's Maximum Average Price (MAP) for its various customer categories for 2010.

The filing, based on the ERC's PBR guidelines, is a multi-faceted process, which will involve the submission of parameters, inputs or factors that will determine the rate Meralco is allowed to charge, he explained.

Among the factors that are considered are inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), the peso-to-dollar exchange rate, performance incentive (a reward or disincentive), and correction due to previous periods as well as under a new recovery. Dela Peña said.

"Using these parameters, Meralco's recommended MAP for FY 2010 is P1.4817 per KWH," Dela Peña further said.

Meralco's petition will have to undergo public hearings before the ERC, he added.

Under the PBR scheme, a power utility may change rates based on projected investments and operating expenses related to the distribution of electricity.

Because it is incentive-based, the PBR methodology is expected to result in better electricity rates, more efficient delivery of service to customers and optimal use of a firm's assets.

Since 2007, Meralco has been trying to complete several projects worth P20.66 billion. The power distributor hopes to finish the projects by 2011. That undertaking will allow Meralco, under the PBR, to implement new tariffs beginning in July 2007.

Meralco proposed PBR-based tariffs application was approved in April 2008.

All power distribution utilities in the Philippines are mandated to use the PBR scheme—a new rating methodology employed on the United States, the United Kingdom and Australia.

Notably, Meralco said that the implementation of the PBR scheme had helped increase its distribution volume by 15.4 percent in the first half while per

Fresh banana exports seen growing by 15% in 2009

By Nino T. Ochoyano

BANANA EXPORTS WILL PROBABLY grow by 15 percent to $600 million this year given the continued market acceptance overseas, according to the Philippine Banana Growers and Exporters Association (PBGEA).

PBGEA spokesperson Anthony R. Soto said the 15-percent growth would follow the volume of banana exports this year to about 2.2 million metric tons (MT) or 170 million boxes.

In 2008, the Philippines exported about 1.9 million MT or about 140 million boxes of fresh bananas. This generated $720 million in revenue.

Soto said the growth was supported by improved farming and shipping methods that were adopted even in markets with export standards, such as Japan.

"Japan has the most stringent standards worldwide, with paper upon paper of requirements, types of chemical-treated and demand for freshness. We've gone there [imported with flying colors]," Soto said.

Further giving credence to his view on the United States and Australia, two major markets, have also started opening up to Philippine bananas.

The US Department of Agriculture has issued a risk assessment report on Philippine bananas stating that the fruit would be brought into the United States if it met the criteria.

BTr rejects bids for 90-day, 1-year treasury bills

By Rosal P. Darra

THE INTEREST RATE ON THE 90-day treasury bill rose by 4.5 basis points to 4.17 percent, the 182-day bill by 4.3 percent.

Bank of the Philippine Islands (BPI) said in a statement yesterday that the BTr rejected offers for the 90-day and 182-day bills to avoid a "very sharp spread" on yields.

Asked what would have been acceptable increases in the rate of such borrowings, BTr said the 0.5 basis points rate increase for the 90-day Treasury bill would suggest what was acceptable.

Deputy Treasurer Eduardo A. Mendillo, who oversees the BTr's auction committee when the BTr is not around, said in an interview that, as a measure of less than a basis point was considered "not significant" and practically means no increase at all.

Also, BTr said the auction remained flat, especially with P1.13 billion amount of bonds maturing this week—representing funds waiting to be "redeployed."

Last week, the BTr rejected all bids for 90-day treasury bills as buyers asked for higher rates despite a very tight market.

The third offer was about two and a half basis points over the BTr's bid, but the BTr rejected it as it was not in line with the BTr's bid.

On July 27, the interest rate on the 90-day bill was 4.12 percent.

Airline passenger traffic still rising

By Mico Merino

AIRLINE PASSENGER TRAFFIC FOR domestic flights continued to rise in the first half, posting an increase of 33 percent to 7.26 million against the 5.42 million seen in the same period last year.

Data from the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) revealed that Cebu Pacific carried 3.81 million passengers to the first semester from 2.57 million a year ago.

Philippines in-flight (PIF) membership, 3.21 million passengers compared with the 2.25 million it carried in the first six months last year.

But last year, 423,000 flew from 200,000 in the same period last year.

PIF, however, the low-cost, domestic unit of PAF, carried less passengers last year—225,000 against 225,000 last year.

Passenger volume of BIAF, also declined to 83,000 from 130,000 last year.

How Geni Psinakis helps Smokey Mountain residents fight poverty

By Margi C. Enright
Contributor

IN 1996, THE LATELY MARRIED English "Rock" Lopez-Psinakis and her husband got a notice about the deconstruction of the Philippines after years of exile.

Accustomed to American prosperity, they were expelled to the Third World living standards. Psinakis was alarmed when his mother-in-law told him that the family was to be deported to the Philippines after years of exile.

In the past few decades, she studied and lived there, and a Greek passport in the age of a 27 and 30-year-old family in Boston. Three years ago, Psinakis came to a guidance counselor at the time, followed, brought Psinakis to Smokey Mountain in Texas.

Moved by the depressing conditions in the far-flung deserts, the spirit right before in front of her computer, sending e-mails to friends asking for help.

However, her visit became successful. Thereafter, Psinakis spent several months in Asia, to her mother's care. With an aid at the family-owned JAB-CEN, she left the Philippines to live in the United States. In the United States, she was ready to leave the country for good, but her mother told her to remain in the country anyway.

Since May, the 34-year-old woman has been working at the 10 International Inc. Philippines (INPH) as business development manager. She is a first in experience, the INPH aims to find solutions in fight poverty by collaborating with other organizations and helping the poor in time themselves from their burden through edu-

Running—improperly—can be hazardous to your health

By Anne A. Jambers

THE GLENN POPULARITY of running has seen the Philadelphia area running scene grow in size and scope, and along with more runners is a rise of running-related injuries.

The while running is an excellent way to keep fit, the experts are warning on the potential for extended periods of overuse and injury.

Without the correct running form and properly fitted gear, running can be an unpleasant, even painful experience.

"Everything starts at the feet. When the feet are not properly aligned and don't support the body well, it will cause a lot of problems all the way up to your head and neck," said Toby Claudio, founder of Runners' High Street, The First in the Area.

Running is the only training specialty store in the running, said Claudio, and probably the only one in the world that brings together under one roof three disciplines that address the major components of running.
